1. Claims 11, 12, and 15-23 are allowed.

Reasons for Allowance

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding the claimed terms, the Examiner notes that a "general term must be understood in the context in which the inventor presents it." In re Glaug 283 F.3d 1335, 1340, 62 USPQ2d 1151, 1154 (Fed. Cir. 2002). Therefore the Examiner must interpret the claimed terms as found on pages 1- 66 of the specification. Clearly almost all the general terms in the claims may have multiple meanings. So where a claim term "is susceptible to various meanings, . . . the inventor's lexicography must prevail . . . ." Id. Using these definitions for the claims, the claimed invention was not reasonably found in the prior art.

3. The closest prior art of record includes U.S. Patent No. 6055314 to Spies et al. ("Spies"), U.S. Patent No. 5758068 to Brandt et al. ("Brandt") and U.S. Patent No. 5260999 to Wyman. These references combined teach different aspects of claims 11 and 19; however, all the limitations including at least "the digital contents information comprising officially copied contents information which is copied under a right for selling the contents information and privately copied contents information which is copied without a right for selling the contents information, and the utilization condition information of the privately copied contents information being more restricted than the utilization condition information of the officially copied contents information" are not taught by these references. Moreover, the missing claimed element is not found in a reasonable number of reference(s). Yet even if the missing claimed element was found in a reasonable number of references, a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would not have been motivated to include this missing element in an embodiment of Spies, Brandt and Wyman combined.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
